

CHALICE BRIDGE

MARGARET RIVER

The Weekend Australian

Reviewed by: James Halliday September 22nd, 2007

The Chalice Bridge 2007 Semillon Sauvignon Blanc, 94 points, shows precisely why Margaret River is by far the best region in Australia for this blend.

Fine and intense, it has lovely fruit flavour and balance; the grassy, minerally Semillon structure is enveloped in the sweet lemon juice and passionfruit of the Sauvignon Blanc, all creating a palate of great length and persistence.

If you can still find the 2004 Chalice Bridge Shiraz, 94 points, jump on it, for it is as fresh as a daisy and with a long future.
